

Arthur Lee
Texas A&M University San Antonio
San Antonio, TX 78224
alee@tamusa.edu
512-767-0197

Education

Ph.D. History, 2026, Johns Hopkins University

- Dissertation: “Revolutionary Ruin: Destruction, Regeneration, and Terror in the French Revolution, 1789-1795”
- Advisors: Michael Kwass and Laura Mason
- Committee: Michael Kwass, Laura Mason, Todd Shepard, Daniel Desormeaux, Ian Collier

M.A. History, 2021, Johns Hopkins University

B.A. History, 2017, and B.A. French, 2018, University of Texas at Austin

B.S. Biochemistry Honors, 2018, University of Texas at Austin

- Thesis in Partial Fulfillment of the Dean’s Honors Degree in Biochemistry: “Using Contaminant RADseq Data for Exploratory Characterizations of Freshwater Microbial Ecologies in British Columbia”

Academic Appointments

Assistant Professor, Early Modern European History, Texas A&M University San Antonio, 2026-present

Publications

“Picturing Black Empire: Marcus Rainsford’s Historical Account and the Visual Politics of the Haitian Revolution,” accepted for publication with Atlantic Studies

Awards and Fellowships

Alexander Grass Humanities Institute Graduate Research Fellow, 2025

Cazel Write Up Fellowship, 2025

Jeanne Marandon Fellowship, 2022-2023

Chateaubriand Fellowship, 2022 (declined)

Charles Singleton Center Graduate Fellowship for Research in Europe, 2021, 2025

Johns Hopkins History Dept. Butler Prize for Best First-Year Research Paper, 2020

University of Texas Undergraduate Research Fellowship, 2014, 2016

Presentations

“Revolutionary Ruin: Destruction, Regeneration, and Terror in the French Revolution,” Global Consortium for French Historical Studies, July 2025

“‘Illustrating’ the Haitian Revolution: Marcus Rainsford and Atlantic Visual Politics,” American Society for Eighteenth-Century Studies, Baltimore, March 2022.

Teaching

Courses

- World Civilization I, Fall 2026, Texas A&M San Antonio
- Europe in the Middle Ages, Fall 2026, Texas A&M San Antonio
- History in Objects: Material Culture in Eighteenth-Century Europe and Today, Intersession 2026, Johns Hopkins

Teaching Institute, Johns Hopkins Center for Teaching Excellence and Innovation, 2025

Teaching Assistant Program in France, 2018-2019

- English Language Teaching Assistant, Lycée Général et Technologique Schuman-Perret, Le Havre, France