Several activities/discussions will be done in collaboration with your classmates. You MUST follow all directions and each discussion will need to be at least 200 words to receive credit. You will be given four quizzes and a final exam. Further explanation of each assignment/activity is given online in modules.

Make-Up Assignments and Examinations - If you miss an exam it must be for one of the following types of reasons: death in the family, severe documentable personal illness, etc. If you have an unexcused absence on a day you are scheduled to turn in an assignment or take a test, you cannot make up that test or turn in late work. Additionally, because of time constraints, the instructor may elect not to grant make-up tests for any reason. In order to make-up an examination or turn in late assignments, you must submit official, verifiable documentation to your instructor. If your request is approved, you may take a make-up test or turn in the assignment on the appointed day. You cannot turn in an assignment through e-mail unless given prior approval from instructor. All make-up exams or assignments must be finalized within 1 week of the absence for qualified persons. Learn smarts and activities/participation grades cannot be made up or any reason. Because of the nature of an online class, I very rarely accept late work. You have ample time to get assignments submitted and should not have excuses for lack of time management.

Student Conduct

Please see Orientation Module for online etiquette for appropriate behaviors.

Appropriate conduct is essential to the effective functioning of the University. University policy defines unacceptable conduct, both academic and non-academic misconduct, and penalties for such behavior in The Student Handbook and The Student Code of Conduct. Additionally, you are expected to participate in a kind and productive way in this course. Any student who is seen as being disruptive or not paying attention in class will be given one warning; after which 10 points will be deducted from the attendance final grade with each subsequent disruption.

Additionally, I expect full academic integrity with every assignment:

- I have a ZERO tolerance policy on cheating and/or plagiarism of ANY kind, including the use of AI or Chat GPT to complete your work.
- Academic integrity is a fundamental principle in higher education. The use of AI without proper attribution or ethical considerations constitutes academic dishonesty, which is a violation of the TAMUSA Academic Integrity Policy. Using AI to complete your assignments is not permitted and may be subject to failing the assignment, this course, and/or disciplinary proceedings.
- I utilize TurnItIn software for our submitted assignments, so any student found plagiarizing, cheating, or utilizing AI is subject to failing the assignment, course, and/or other disciplinary actions. This is non-negotiable.
- The best way to avoid plagiarism is to properly cite the sources you utilized with the appropriate citation method (using APA format) every time, and to include a References or Works Cited page. Remember, you must also put the information you gathered from your sources into your own words- you CANNOT copy and paste from a source directly into your paper and claim it as your own. We will discuss this thoroughly in class, including proper citation methods, and what constitutes plagiarism.
- AI or Chat GPT may ONLY be used with instructor permission on certain in-class activities. Using AI or Chat GPT for anything else can lead to an automatic zero and is subject to other disciplinary actions as is deemed by university policy. I WILL KNOW if you have not used your own words!

TAMUSA Academic Integrity Policy

Students at Texas A&M University-San Antonio are expected to adhere to the highest standards of academic honesty and integrity. Academic dishonesty for which a student is subject to penalty includes cheating, plagiarism, fabrication, multiple submissions, misrepresentation of academic records, facilitating academic dishonesty, unfair advantage, violating known safety requirements and ethical misconduct. This includes holding other students to the same standards and reporting any incidents of alleged violation of the honesty policy to the instructor involved or, if necessary, to the appropriate academic department head. All students are responsible for being familiar with the Academic Dishonesty Policy, which may be found in the Texas A&M University-San Antonio Student Handbook.

University policy prescribes serious consequences for acts of academic dishonesty including, but not limited to, a grade of 'F' on that one paper or assignment, a failing grade in the course, or possible expulsion from the University. Considering the potential consequences of academic misconduct, it is obviously in students' best interests to avoid even the appearance of such behavior. If a student is ever unclear whether a specific act might constitute academic misconduct, please contact the instructor for an assessment of the situation. All student term papers, and other written assignments are subject to analysis by anti-plagiarism software. The instructor will report ALL instances of real or perceived violations of Academic Integrity.

Instructor Integrity Policy:

At TAMUSA, students and faculty value academic achievement, lifelong learning, diversity, and personal/social responsibility. We embrace our values out of commitment to families, peers, neighbors, and ourselves. Integrity, one of our core values, is characterized by honesty and fairness, and is essential for an open exchange of ideas, and to the collaboration necessary for learning.

In upholding integrity, academic dishonesty will not be tolerated. Cheating on assignments, plagiarism, and collusion through unauthorized collaboration are not part of integrity. Penalties for not following university and instructor policies on integrity in this course is as follows:

1. Any student caught cheating will be given a "0" for the test or assignment for the first offense. On second

- attempt by same student, a grade of "F" will be given for the course.
2. Any student caught plagiarizing will receive an "F" in the course immediately. No exceptions.

Students' Rights and Responsibilities

The following statement of students' rights and responsibilities is intended to reflect the philosophical base upon which University Student Rules are built. This philosophy acknowledges the existence of both rights and responsibilities, which is inherent to an individual not only as a student at Texas A&M University-San Antonio but also as a citizen of this country.

Students' Rights

1. A student shall have the right to participate in a free exchange of ideas, and there shall be no University rule or administrative rule that in any way abridges the rights of freedom of speech, expression, petition and peaceful assembly as set forth in the U.S. Constitution.
2. Each student shall have the right to participate in all areas and activities of the University, free from any form of discrimination, including harassment, on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin, religion, sex, disability, age, sexual orientation, or veteran status in accordance with applicable federal and state laws.
3. A student has the right to personal privacy except as otherwise provided by law, and this will be observed by students and University authorities alike.
4. Each student subject to disciplinary action arising from violations of University Student Rules shall be assured a fundamentally fair process.

Students' Responsibilities

1. A student has the responsibility to respect the rights and property of others, including other students, the faculty and University officials.
2. A student has the responsibility to be fully acquainted with the published University Student Rules and to comply with them, as well as federal, state, and local laws.
3. A student has the responsibility to recognize that student actions reflect upon the individuals involved and upon the entire University community.
4. A student has the responsibility to maintain a level of behavior that is consistent in supporting the learning environment of the institution and to recognize the University's obligation to provide an environment for learning.

Religious Observances

Texas A&M University-San Antonio recognizes the diversity of faiths represented among the campus community and protects the rights of students, faculty, and staff to observe religious holidays according to their tradition. Under the policy, students are provided an opportunity to make up any examination, study, or work requirements that may be missed due to a religious observance provided they notify their instructors before the end of the second week of classes for regular session classes.

Emergency Preparedness

JagE-Alert is Texas A&M University-San Antonio's mass notification. To register or update your information visit: <https://tamusa.bbcportal.com>. More information about Emergency Preparedness and the Emergency Response Guide can be found here.

Respect for Diversity

We understand that our students represent diverse backgrounds and perspectives. When we are equity-minded, we are aware of differences and inequalities and are willing to discuss them so we can act to resolve them. The University is committed to building cultural competencies, or the attitudes, skills, and knowledge that enable individuals and organizations to acknowledge cultural differences and incorporate these differences in working with people from diverse cultures. Respecting and accepting people different than you is vital to your success in the class, on campus, and as a future professional in the global community. While working together to build this community we ask all members to:

- Share their unique experiences, values, and beliefs.
- Be open to the views of others.
- Honor the uniqueness of their colleagues.
- Value each other's opinions and communicate respectfully.
- Keep confidential discussions that the community has of a personal (or professional) nature.
- Use this opportunity together to discuss ways in which we can create an inclusive environment in this course and across the A&M-San Antonio community.

Statement of Harassment and Discrimination

Texas A&M University-San Antonio is committed to the fundamental principles of academic freedom, equality of opportunity and human dignity. To fulfill its multiple missions as an institution of higher learning, A&M-San Antonio encourages a climate that values and nurtures collegiality, diversity, pluralism and the uniqueness of the individual within our state, nation, and world. All decisions and actions involving students and employees should be based on applicable law and individual merit. Texas A&M University-San Antonio, in accordance with applicable federal and state law, prohibits discrimination, including harassment, on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin, religion, sex, disability, age, sexual orientation, or veteran status. Individuals who believe they have experienced harassment or discrimination prohibited by this statement are encouraged to contact the appropriate offices within their respective units.

The Six-Drop Rule

Students are subject to the requirements of Senate Bill (SB) 1231 passed by the Texas Legislature in 2007. SB 1231 limits students to a maximum of six (6) non-punitive course drops (i.e., courses a student chooses to drop) during their undergraduate careers. A non-punitive drop does not affect the student's GPA. However, course drops that exceed the maximum allowed by SB 1231 will be treated as "F" grades and will impact the student's GPA.

Privacy

If a student wishes their personal information be private, visit the Texas A&M – San Antonio Registrar, and request a confidentiality hold.

Financial Aid and Verification of Attendance

According to the following federal regulation, 34 CFR 668.21: U.S. Department of Education (DoE) Title IV regulation, a student can only receive Title IV funds based on Title IV eligibility criteria which include class attendance. If Title IV funds are disbursed to ineligible students (including students who fail to begin attendance), the institution must return these funds to the U.S. DoE within 30 days of becoming aware that the student will not or has not begun attendance. Faculty will provide the Office of Financial Aid with an electronic notification if a student has not attended the first week of class. Any student receiving federal financial aid who does not attend the first week of class will have their aid terminated and returned to the DoE. Please note that any student who stops attending at any time during the semester may also need to return a portion of their federal aid.
