Required co-requisite for Biology Majors: BIOL 1307 General Biology II

Recommended prerequisite: MATH 1314 Successful completion of College Algebra or Concurrent enrollment in higher-level mathematics is recommended.

Materials Required: Laboratory instruction handouts provided on Blackboard.

*You are also HIGHLY encouraged to work off of a computer or laptop for your pre-/post-lab coursework. If you need a computer or wi-fi, please contact IT directly for assistance. IT contact information can be found in the Table of Contents in Blackboard as well as the University website. Furthermore, computer labs on campus are open and available to you! Finally, it is up to the student to have a stable internet/browser connection when conducting any online coursework.

Course Description: This course provides hands-on laboratory exercises that highlight the fundamental principles concerning the biology of organisms: biodiversity, evolutionary relationships among major groups of organisms, structural/functional characteristics of these organisms, and general ecological principles of organism relationships. This course is designed for students majoring in science fields. Biology majors taking this course must be concurrently registered for BIOL 1307.

Learning Outcomes:

1. Students will develop Critical Thinking Skills, Communication Skills, and Empirical and Quantitative skills. Students will learn to work as a team.
2. Students will understand and apply the Scientific Method to novel questions to develop a strategy to answer those questions.
3. Students will learn how to collect and analyze scientific data through hands-on activities in which they gather the data.

Required:

- Signed safety agreement prior to start of second lab period.
- You must wear closed toed shoes and pants to lab each week. Students not in proper attire will be asked to leave.
- Lab coats must be purchased and worn in the lab during designated weeks on the syllabus schedule. If you forget your lab coat, you will be required to rent one for $2 or leave the lab for the day and take a zero. Renting is dependent on lab coat availability.

- Students must log-in regularly to both the Blackboard site and to their TAMUSA email account to keep updated on information related to the class.

Grading Scheme:

Attendance – Mandatory. Laboratories are important to the biology experience. Attendance and participation will be recorded at all lab meetings for a total of 100 attendance points. However, if a student misses more than 3 laboratory classes in a regular semester then the student will automatically fail the course. Please see a more detailed description below in the Laboratory Attendance Policy.

Assignments – There are 11 assignments due worth 20 points, the lowest assignment grade will be dropped each for a total of 200 points for the semester. These will be explained each week before they are due and will require additional work outside of class.

Pre-lab Quizzes – There are 10 quizzes with each quiz worth 10 points, for a total of 100 points for the semester. These will be pre-lab quizzes due at 11:59PM per due date in Blackboard. Pre-lab Quizzes will also be timed at 20 minutes with 5-10 questions. These quizzes are to ensure your preparedness for lab.

Laboratory Proposal – This will be a group document that I will provide more information during the Scientific Writing and Animal Behavior Lab. I will also provide a grading rubric to ensure you understand the requirements for your grade including the appropriate animal behavior topic. Your group proposal will be worth 100 points and must be submitted via Turnitin.com. You must also submit on the original due date a completed proposal. The original proposal is worth 100 points.

This is much like a real grant or research proposal and you will have to gain approval on your proposal to move forward. In other words, I will either accept or reject your proposal. If rejected (score less than 70/100), you will be required to resubmit for approval. If you receive greater than 70/100, resubmission is optional. All resubmissions must be done in track changes and will be regraded for points up to the instructor's discretion. Again, to be eligible for resubmission, you must submit a completed proposal on the original due date found in the lab syllabus schedule.

Presentation – During the Scientific Writing and Animal Behavior Lab mentioned above, you will form groups during lab and conduct an independent study on animal behavior based on your experimental design outlined in the proposal (see above). As a group, you will present the results of this study during the final lab. A grading rubric will be distributed to the groups during the semester to ensure you understand the requirements for the presentation. In addition, each person will be anonymously graded by your other group members on your participation to ensure that everyone pulls their own weight (see below regarding group participation). If I receive a bad report from your group for your performance, this will be reflected on your individual grade. The presentation is worth 50 points.

Group Project Participation – You will be graded on your participation in the animal behavior proposal writing, editing, experiment execution, and presentation. You must do your part to receive these points. There will be a peer-evaluation for each of these components. You automatically receive 15 points, unless your peer-evaluations indicate lack of participation in any of these areas.

Late Work – I do not accept late work unless it is due to a university approved and documented absence or an unavoidable situation. If such circumstances arise, you are required to communicate with me within 24 hours of the due date for the assignment in question. You will also be required to provide appropriate documentation. If you do not, you will receive a zero. It is at my discretion whether I will deduct points for approved late work.

Assignment Points

Attendance	100
Quizzes (10)	100
Assignments (11; 1 dropped)	200
Lab Proposal	100
Participation	15
Presentation	50
Total	565

A=565-508, B=507-452, C=451-395, D=394-339, F=<338 or below. I will round up or down the decimal place on a grade. So, if you receive a 459.5, you will get an A for the letter grade. However, a 459.4 will be a B. I will not make a decision about scaling the course grade until course averages have been determined.

Laboratory Attendance Policy - Laboratory courses are unique to your education in that they will provide you with hands-on opportunities to gain the skills and critical thinking processes inherent to the study of biology. For these reasons, we have a strict departmental attendance policy:

- Attendance is mandatory.
- If you miss more than 3 labs for whatever reason (excused or not), the maximum score you can earn for the laboratory section of a course is 50%.
- If you miss a lab section for a university excused absence, you may attempt to make up the lab in another lab section if the following criteria are met and directions followed:
 - a) the absence is considered a university excused absence and was determined to be one by your primary instructor (documentation will be required),
 - b) you must contact via e-mail both your instructor and the instructor of the section you would like to attend, and
 - c) you must receive written confirmation that you are able to make up the lab. *If you do not receive written confirmation, you will not be allowed to make up the lab. Due to the nature of certain lab topics, not all labs have makeup ability; therefore, missing lab forfeits any associated points.

TENTATIVE Lab Schedule: Every effort will be made to keep the following schedule.

*All labs will meet in-person on campus in STEM 371 (unless otherwise noted) and count towards your “Attendance” points.

All pre-lab quizzes and assignments outlined in the Due Dates column count toward your final grade.

The Six-Drop Rule: Students are subject to the requirements of Senate Bill (SB) 1231 passed by the Texas Legislature in 2007. SB 1231 limits students to a maximum of six (6) non-punitive course drops (i.e., courses a student chooses to drop) during their undergraduate careers. A non-punitive drop does not affect the student's GPA. However, course drops that exceed the maximum allowed by SB 1231 will be treated as "F" grades and will impact the student's GPA.

2. Each student shall have the right to participate in all areas and activities of the University, free from any form of discrimination, including harassment, on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin, religion, sex, disability, age, and pregnancy/parenting or veteran status in accordance with applicable federal and state laws.
3. A student has the right to personal privacy except as otherwise provided by law, and this will be observed by students and University authorities alike.
4. Each student subject to disciplinary action arising from violations of university student rules shall be assured a fundamentally fair process.

Students' Responsibilities

1. A student has the responsibility to respect the rights and property of others, including other students, the faculty, and administration.
2. A student has the responsibility to be fully acquainted with the published University Student Rules found in the Student Handbook, Student Code of Conduct, on our website, and University Catalog, and to comply with them, as well as with federal, state, and local laws.

4. A student has the responsibility to recognize the University's obligation to provide a safe environment for learning.
5. A student has the responsibility to check their university email for any updates or official university notifications.

We expect that students will behave in a manner that is dignified, respectful, and courteous to all people, regardless of sex, ethnic/racial origin, religious background, or disability. Conduct that infringes on the rights of another individual will not be tolerated.

Students are expected to exhibit a high level of honesty and integrity in their pursuit of higher education. Students engaging in an act that violates the standards of academic integrity will find themselves facing academic and/or disciplinary sanctions. Academic misconduct is any act, or attempt, which gives an unfair advantage to the student. Additionally, any behavior specifically prohibited by a faculty member in the course syllabus or class discussion may be considered as academic misconduct.
