

Graduate Continuous Enrollment Course Syllabus

Texas A&M University-San Antonio
College of Education & Human Development
Department of Curriculum & Instruction

EDCI 5101 Graduate Continuous Enrollment

Instructor: Michael Boucher
Office Phone Number: 210.784.2559
Office Hours: Posted in BB
Email: Mboucher@TAMUSA.edu

Course Description:

To be used by graduate programs at Texas A&M University-San Antonio to keep students consecutively enrolled and maintain active status in order to utilize A&M-San Antonio resources.

A. MAJOR COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

MILESTONS AND DESCRIPTIONS
Complete thesis requirements and successfully defend thesis	This course is a continuation of Thesis II. Students will use this course to complete thesis edits and revisions with their committee's approval, prepare a thesis defense, successfully defend their thesis, and prepare it for final publication by the university.

*Note that there are no scheduled due dates, assignments, or corresponding points in the class. The thesis chair and the student will agree on all due dates for the class. A final grade for the class is administered when the student has completed and defended the thesis.