Grades

This course is Labor Based Assessment (LBA) and will also include group discussions over assigned texts. Please be prepared each class to write about and discuss assigned texts, but do not be afraid to voice different and unique perspectives on these assigned texts. To succeed in this course, it is crucial that you read all assigned texts, develop original ideas about those texts, attend class, take detailed notes, engage with your peers during discussions and workshops, write with integrity and inspiration, and ask for help! I grade assignments each week with written feedback. You can check your total grade at any time in Blackboard. Please email me or visit my office during office hours to request an extension in advance, or a revision.

Grade Distribution

Each class task is worth 1 point. If you complete 80% of the assigned tasks you will receive a B in the class.

Numerical Grade Equivalents

Final course grades are calculated on the standard scale:

A = 100-90 | B = 89-80 | C = 79-70 | D = 69-60 | F = 59 or less

Assignments (See appendix for assignment sheets)

1. Digital Writing Portfolio check-in: In ENGL 1301 Students compile all their completed summative assessments and writing goals journal entries into a final digital portfolio and then write an introduction reflecting on their writing processes and language practices. In ENGL 1300 you will be required to work on your

Introduction and reflections in class. You will also be expected to upload each of these to blackboard as part of your grade.

2. Participation check-ins: In ENGL 1301 students collaborate within writing workshop groups to complete formative in-class writing activities designed to assist them towards completion of summative assessments, including reading responses, prewriting, peer reviews, etc. In ENGL 1300 students will be asked to discuss and reflect on the peer collaboration process.
3. Writing Goals Journal Prewriting and Check-ins: In ENGL 1301 students are assigned a Writing Goals Journal with assignments that are intended to be an informal, low-stakes way for students to reflect on and communicate their writing strengths and areas for improvement to the instructor. There are five Writing Goals Journal assignments throughout the semester. In ENGL 1300 students will complete initial beginning of the semester (BOS), middle of the semester (MOS), and end of the semester (EOS) reading and writing reflections that they can use as the basis for their ENGL 1301 writing journal assignments.
4. Unit 1 Summative Assessment (Personal Narrative): Students complete a narrative essay about their selected topic of interest, which will inform all future assignments. This assignment serves as a diagnostic for student writing and allows students to begin a long-term research project starting from their personal interests. In English 1300 Students complete a topic walk-about to determine a topic of interest and it's viability to sustain research and interest.
5. Unit 2 Summative Assessment (Rhetorical Analysis): Students complete an essay about their rhetorical analysis of a text which will inform their later research in Unit 3. This assessment shifts students from their personal interest into exploring how professional content creators develop text while introducing research strategies and ethical source integration. In Engl 1300 students will learn the parts of Rhetorical Analysis
6. Unit 3 Summative Assessment (Scholarly Article Analysis): Students complete an essay about their analysis of a scholarly article's main argument and what knowledge is added to the topic by this source, allowing students to review how sources add, extend, or complicate the same topic. This assessment shifts students from professional content creators to how experts in a field develop texts to advance knowledge, while still emphasizing research strategies and ethical source integration. In ENGL 1300 students will learn MLA, APA, and other selected citation styles. They will practice ethical source integration research strategies.
7. Unit 4 Summative Assessment (Persuasive Essay): Students complete a research essay with an informed stance about their updated perspectives on the selected topic. This assignment requires students to incorporate research from their Rhetorical Analysis and Scholarly Article Analysis assignments, demonstrating their mastery of research strategies and ethical source integration. In ENGL 1300 students will learn the difference between persuasion and argumentation. Students will practice writing thesis and then finding evidence to support their claims to help them with their argument and persuasive essay.

Attendance

You are absent if you are not present for class and late if you arrive after attendance has been taken. You must communicate the circumstances with me in advance to be excused for an absence or late arrival. Your success and development as a writer depend on your active participation within your writing workshop group. Consistent attendance is crucial.

Respect

I am committed to fostering a respectful classroom environment in which different backgrounds and perspectives are acknowledged. While working with classmates and instructors, you will respectfully listen to others' experiences and perspectives, share your own experiences and perspectives, and value the opportunity to learn from each other. Demonstrating respect for those different from you prepares you for success in the classroom and as citizens. If you use violent, harassing, and or discriminatory language, you will be reported to the university and may be subject to Student Code of Conduct policies.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism is defined as the intentional use of another's "language, ideas, or original (not common knowledge) material" without acknowledgement ("Defining and Avoiding Plagiarism"). If you plagiarize, copy, or otherwise cheat on an assignment, you will receive a permanent zero on that assignment without the opportunity for revision.

Generative AI

The INRW program expects you to generate your own content this semester. Relying on generative AI to write content for you prevents you from growing as a university-level writer and critical thinker. However, there are situations and contexts within our courses where you may use generative artificial intelligence (GAI) tools to support your work as a writer. For example, GAI technologies such as ChatGPT can work well as a starting point for written assignments, assisting you with brainstorming, outlining, generating ideas, and collecting basic information about a topic/idea. Note that the emphasis here is on "support." GAI programs have been shown to provide biased or incorrect information, and to generate writing that lacks human imagination. For these reasons, the INRW program discourages you from using GAI technology to generate content for you. If you have reason to use GAI to generate content with you, consult with your professor before doing so. Using GAI content without your professor's permission and/or without proper attribution qualifies as plagiarism.

Personal Conferences

This semester, you and your peers will work together in writing workshop groups, and you will also work individually on assignments. As you work, I will circulate around the room and talk to each of you individually. Please be prepared to share with me what you are working on, what your current reading/writing goal is, and how I can support you in this. You may also ask me to help support you in digication, blackboard, and in communication you're your professors. I will assist you in all college going habits.

Digital Tools

This course uses Blackboard. While instruction will be provided, it is your responsibility to submit assignments on time. If you experience technical difficulties with Blackboard, please try a different browser, contact me, or contact the ITS Help Desk: (210) 784-4357 or helpdesk@tamusa.edu. Links to Google Docs or SharePoint files will not be accepted, as I am often unable to access the files behind those links due to locked sharing permissions.
