Catalog Description:

5305: Graduate Thesis. Thesis hours involve work on a thesis with an advisor. The course will be repeated until the thesis is finished and defended.

Course Objectives:

- The first semester (Proposal), this course requires settling on a thesis project, collecting preliminary data if possible, writing and presenting the proposal.
- The last semester (Defense), students will finish collecting data for the thesis project and defend their thesis at the end of the semester. The thesis project will require a paper to be submitted for publication with the advisor.
- If additional semesters of thesis are taken before the last semester, students will be continuing work on their projects.

Course Grades

Each student's grade will be based solely on his/her performance. Students will not compete against one another for grades (i.e., the instructor will not limit the number of As, Bs, etc.). Students will be expected to participate in all aspects of the research group. The grade for the thesis project will involve a grade for the paper.

Letter Grade Rubric Table

A	All deadlines met, meetings attended, excellent participation, good project, required hours achieved
B	All of the above, but most of the time; good project.
C	All of the above, but only some of the time; average project.
D	Unacceptable work
F	Unacceptable work

Graded Elements:

1. 50% Written Thesis Project Proposal or Final Thesis: Written elements, including literature review, methods, data analysis plan, results (if applicable) and required APA style elements.
2. 20% Oral Thesis Proposal or Final Defense: Oral presentation. May occur at anytime during the semester. Please work with your advisor and committee to ensure that you are on track.
3. 25% Thesis Planning Meetings with Advisor. Attendance and sufficient progress demonstrated on project. Students must attend the individual meeting with the advisor each week during the semester.
4. 5% Participation in Psychology programming or Conference presentations.
Students will be expected to present research at a conference, if it is safe. If you are concerned about safety, you will not be required to submit to a conference. Conferences include:

- SWPA: Southwestern Psychological Association, April 2, 2027 - April 4, 2027 (anyone can present, students or alumni). Call for presentations November 2026.
- RISE 2024: Formerly Student Research Symposium, on our campus TBA 2026. (students and December alumni can present)
- Other conferences or presentation strategies may be considered and can be approved with the approval of your Instructor. If you plan to present next year, for example, the Society for Personality and Social Psychology (SPSP) will take place in Philadelphia Feb 11-13, 2027 (deadline for submission early September for posters), and SWPA will be in Houston, TX (submission deadline in October or November).
- Psychology Speaker Series. We will have three to five speakers from our search for psychology candidates presenting in March/April. Dates will be announced. There may be a possibility for another speaker later in the semester.
- Additional opportunities may arise; speak with your Thesis advisory committee.

Amount of Time Required per Week

This class is taken in place of an in-person class. Therefore, the time typically spent on a class (three hours in class plus about 6 hours out of class) is the minimum students should plan to spend on their thesis per week. It is suggested that students create activity logs so that they can track their own hours spent on the project. This is not done to turn in to the advisor, but to help them plan, so that their final project can be completed before the end of the semester. They should write down how many hours they need to spend on each activity, so they know when they need to increase the number of hours per week to finish on time. Students who have not finished on time may be required to take (and pay for) additional thesis hours, which will extend their time in the program.

Citi Training: Please make sure Citi Training is up to date, including Revised Common Rule (included in Social and Behavioral Research), Intro to Responsible Conduct of Research, and Advanced Responsible Conduct of Research. www.citiprogram.org

Deadlines

All deadlines given to you must be met if you are taking the course for credit, in order to get an A.

Any material on this syllabus is subject to change if a compelling situation arises. You will be notified via email and Bb announcement.

2. Each student shall have the right to participate in all areas and activities of the University, free from any form of discrimination, including harassment, on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin, religion, sex, disability, age, and pregnancy/parenting or veteran status in accordance with applicable federal and state laws.
3. A student has the right to personal privacy except as otherwise provided by law, and this will be observed by students and University authorities alike.
4. Each student subject to disciplinary action arising from violations of university student rules shall be assured a fundamentally fair process.

Students' Responsibilities

1. A student has the responsibility to respect the rights and property of others, including other students, the faculty, and administration.
