ENGL 4398: Senior Seminar

Independent study

Katherine Bridgman, Phd

Course Description

Credits: 3 (0-0-3)

An intensive examination of a critical literary approach or a special topic in literary and cultural studies requiring the production of an extensive research-based project. TSI Restriction(s): Reading, Writing, and Math

Prerequisites: ENGL 3315.

Restrictions: Students with a semester level of Freshman, Junior or Sophomore may not enroll. Graduate level students may not enroll.

Student learning outcomes

- Analyze corpus of work throughout time in college
- Identify goals for next steps in your career
- Evaluate gaps in your resume and how you will fill these gaps to support your career goals
- Develop job application materials that align with these goals
- Create a portfolio supporting job materials that includes the creation or revision of a new piece of writing

Required Texts

All readings are available through Blackboard.