Course Description & Objectives

In this class, we will work on the following themes of Texas Government: the origin and development of the Texas Constitution, structure and powers of state and local government, federalism and inter-governmental relations, political participation, the election process, public policy, and the political culture of Texas. This course fulfills the Government/Political Science foundational component area of the core and addresses the following required objectives: Critical Thinking, Communication, Social Responsibility, and Personal Responsibility.

By the end of the course, you will have a comprehensive understanding of the structure of our state government and will understand better how our state is supposed to work. Please be advised that this is an ONLINE class, which means that all the instruction, activities, and assignments will occur online.

PowerPoints and other supplemental materials are posted in BLACKBOARD under their corresponding week. We do not have scheduled meeting times. All assignments have their own individual due dates (including the semester reflections, which serve as check-ins throughout the semester). However, you can submit assignments earlier than their due date if you are able to move through the semester quicker than the class schedule.

Disability Accommodations

It is the student's responsibility to immediately notify the Disability Support Services office for any official accommodation needed for the student. The sooner the request by the student is done, the sooner a letter of accommodation will be sent by DSS to the instructor for the class. The letter will describe what the accommodation is, and how to make it accessible as soon as possible. But any official documentation must be sent from DSS so that the instructor is informed. Once received by the instructor, the accommodation will be discussed with the student to ensure that we both understand what they are and how to implement them in class.

SPRING 2024 SEMESTER: ASSIGNMENT DESCRIPTIONS

1. Syllabus & Blackboard Scavenger Hunt Exercise

This assignment is an attendance verification activity assigned to be done completed by the Census date. The Syllabus & Blackboard Scavenger Hunt Exercise is done specifically to ensure that you are attending AND participating in this class. It counts as the first attendance check-in of the semester. It is to get you to read the syllabus and make sure that you are aware of what the expectations of this class are. The Syllabus & Blackboard Scavenger Hunt Exercise is the first assignment and will open at 1am on Tuesday, 16 January 2024. It is worth forty (40) points and will be due by 10pm on Sunday, 28 January 2024. This assignment is unique in that there is no extension (no late work will be accepted). Not completing this important assignment will result in being dropped from this course. However, if you withdraw from class, it is YOUR responsibility to verify that it is completed.

2. Semester Reflection Assignments

TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY SAN ANTONIO

There are six (6) semester reflections to be done (one reflection assignment done every other week). These assignments allow for the student to provide your feedback – questions, comments, concerns, and suggestions for what we will do in class. The reflection assignments automatically open at 1am on Tuesday, 16 January 2024. But each reflection assignment HAS ITS OWN HARD DEADLINE (STATED IN THE SYLLABUS SCHEDULE). Please be careful with these assignments as they are used solely for feedback about the content that we have done for the period that each reflection covers. Do not sleep on these assignments as they tend to be the easiest of assignments on our schedule.

Doing each of these assignments are mandatory and on their own time schedule (they each have their own due dates within a limited amount of time as instructed on our syllabus). The check-ins are done every other week...Each reflection assignment is worth twenty (20) points for a total of 120 points. An extension for all reflection assignments will be open until 10pm on Sunday, 28 April 2024. However, this will come with a 4-point deduction off the top for late reflection assignment. After the assignment extension ends, no late reflection assignment will be accepted - no exceptions.

3. Chapter Assignments

There are eight (8) regular assignments, each that will focus on a respective chapter. There is a lecture and (in most cases a video) included for the support of the textbook chapter. The videos are a resource to help you – to demystify the more difficult themes in class as well as provide you with some amazing facts on the Texas Government – how and why we have the structure that we do. The videos will help make the topics easier to understand. But there are a couple of the videos that will be the primary focus of an assignment.

There are a few assignments that are attached to bigger videos. Each of these assignments are marked on the Syllabus and in Blackboard according to the order of chapters each week. To complete one of these assignments, you will have to watch a video and then complete questions that focus on the video in connection to the chapter featured for that week. Links to these larger videos will be included in their appropriate assignments for easier access. Please make sure to number your answers according to the questions they respond to. Following instructions will ensure that you receive full credit for the assignments prior to grading.

The chapter assignments automatically open at 1am on Tuesday, 16 January 2024. But each chapter assignment HAS ITS OWN HARD DEADLINE (STATED IN THE SYLLABUS SCHEDULE). While it is preferable for you to complete these assignments according to their respective deadlines, the due dates are different and are non-negotiable. So, it is to your benefit and your responsibility to get the assignments done by their respective due dates. Each chapter assignment is worth fifty-five (55) points for a total of 440 points. An extension for all chapter assignments will be open until 10pm on Sunday, 28 April 2024. However, this will come with a 10-point deduction off the top for late chapter assignments. After the assignment extension ends, no late chapter assignments will be accepted - no exceptions.

4. Fall 2023 Semester Final Exam

There will only be one exam this semester – the Final Exam. It will be a cumulative exam that will cover several topics as discussed, this semester. It is worth 100 points. The format of the Final Exam will be in essay form and its instructions will be rolled out to you on Monday, 25 March 2024. This will allow you the time and space to prepare for the final exam.

The final exam will open at 1am on Monday, 29 April 2024 and will stay open until 10pm on Monday, 6 May 2024. It will not be timed, so this should allow students to take the final exam without rushing through it. The time will not be extended, so make sure that you are able to take the Final Exam. There will not be an opportunity to make up the final exam if you miss it. If you miss the final exam, you will be given a zero.

TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY SAN ANTONIO

FYI: For your information - Resources (lectures & videos)

The textbook publisher includes extra resources with the textbook and lectures. The extra resources may feature assignments or chapter quizzes designed to assist the student better understand a chapter. You are welcome to complete these extra assignments. But none of them will be graded or included in our grading this semester. The only assignments you will be expected to complete for a grade are those listed in this syllabus and the Assignments page in Blackboard.

Also, I have also included a resource page for you on Blackboard regarding videos to help you better understand the lectures and textbook. Every week, we will focus on a new chapter. Attached to each chapter is a lecture from the original version of the textbook. Even though the textbook was updated, the lectures are the same and are easy to follow. There is also at least an introductory video that describes the information provided in each chapter. Most of the videos are short (no more than 10-15 minutes in length each) and make it easier to understand the content covered by the chapter and lecture.

FYI: For your information - Weekly Assignment & Reflection Deadline Extension

An extension for all chapter & reflection assignments will be open until 10pm on Sunday, 28 April 2024. However, this will come with a (ten) 10-point deduction off the top for late chapter assignments and a (three) 3-point deduction for late reflection assignments. Please adhere to the instructions listed in each assignment. Submit all assignments in a Word document ONLY – never in any other form UNLESS otherwise instructed. But no weekly or reflection assignment will be accepted after that deadline extension. Any missing weekly and reflection assignments will automatically be given a “0”.

SPRING 2024 SEMESTER: CLASS EXPECTATIONS

General Expectations

You are expected to check into our class Blackboard site a minimum of three times a week, to complete the weekly readings/lectures and their assignments (including the final exam) by the dates listed in our schedule in the syllabus. Instructions for the assignments are posted both in the syllabus and in each of the assignments respectively. The assignments for this class can be found on Blackboard under the assignment prompt on the main navigation list.

No student can pass the course without completing ALL assignments and exams. One’s inability to manage their time or adequately plan for class does not constitute an emergency for me. Do not wait to let me know if there is an issue that can hinder your participation in our class. Waiting to contact me after there is an issue does not help you – instead, it takes away necessary time for you to get the assistance that you need to complete the assignments. Please plan accordingly as there is at least one assignment week. Let me know if there are any issues so that we can see what adjustments can be done to help.

There will be an assignment extension period to still submit late assignments. This is to allow you to get in late assignments if needed. However, turning in a late assignment comes with a penalty of an automatic deduction of 10 points for the late submission. Although it is not the best circumstance, IT DOES allow for you to still turn in an assignment late and it be accepted and graded... After that extension period ends, late work will not be accepted – no exceptions.

I would like to help as much as I can. But communication must flow in both directions. Please email me so that I can provide help with your assignments or on other issues. Waiting until the last minute to submit your assignment or ask for help after a deadline takes away your ability to get help and adjust when possible.

Finally, I will not tolerate frivolous requests for regrades (e.g., requests of the “I need a good grade to go [business/law/med] school!” or of the “I need a good grade because I’m on probation!” variety). Caring about your grade should be practiced all semester, not just at the end of the semester. I do not grade on a curve so the grade you receive will be for the work you have done.

Respect for each other

Please use respectful language in all correspondence with me, in any class discussion posts as well as assignments. There is a zero-tolerance policy in my class regarding racism, sexism, homophobia, xenophobia, or any other highly offensive or violent rhetoric. As our class is about Texas government, I expect the conversation to be spicy... especially as there is another busy election season upon us. HOWEVER, everyone is expected to give respect for others as you want respect from others.

As your instructor, I will respect the dignity and essential worth of all individuals; will promote a culture of respect for the TAMUSA community; respect the privacy, property, and freedom of others; reject bigotry, discrimination, violence, or intimidation of any kind; practice personal and academic integrity and expect it of others; and promote the diversity of opinions, ideas, and backgrounds, which is the lifeblood of this university. I expect the same of each student in the class for themselves and your classmates.

No Use of Generative Artificial Intelligence

GOVT 2306-601 assumes that all work submitted by students will be generated by the students themselves, working individually or in groups. Students should not have another person/entity do the writing of any portion of an assignment for them, which includes hiring a person or a company to write assignments and/or using artificial intelligence (AI) tools like ChatGPT. Use of any AI-generated content in this course qualifies as academic dishonesty and violates Texas A&M-San Antonio's standards of academic integrity.

Academic dishonesty & misconduct

Academic dishonesty (or academic misconduct) refers to deceitful or misleading behavior in an academic setting. Academic dishonesty can occur intentionally or unintentionally and varies in severity. It can encompass paying for a pre-written essay or assignment; using an assignment from a previous class for this class; cheating on an exam; stealing someone else's work without proper credit (plagiarism); submitting an assignment done with AI; submitting a "clean essay" with no references used or cited (plagiarism); working with someone on an assignment that is supposed to be done individually and sharing answers (to where the answers are identical word for word); committing plagiarism; or signing in for someone else (that is absent in class).

Consequences of academic dishonesty depend on the severity of the offense; the instructor's syllabus policy and TAMUSA's institutional policy. Please be advised that possible consequences can range of receiving at least one of the following actions:

- receiving a warning
- receiving a zero on that assignment
- doing that assignment over (for a lower grade)
- failing the course
- being reported to your advisor and/or chair of the department
- being expelled from TAMUSA

For students, academic dishonesty impacts your reputation and future college record, leading others to doubt your future work. If you are unsure about something, please come to the instructor so that the matter can be clarified. If possible, let us avoid the possible trouble that can be caused by this misconduct and behavior.

Students with disabilities

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides reasonable accommodation of their disability. If you believe you have a disability that may require class accommodation, please contact Disability Support Services for the coordination of services. DSS is located on the first floor of the Main Campus building (Room 127) and on the Brooks City-Base Campus in Room 149. The phone number for DSS is 210-784- 1335.

Counseling resources

There may be times when personal stressors interfere with your academic performance and/or negatively impact your daily functioning. If you or someone you know is experiencing life stressors, emotional difficulties, or mental health concerns at TAMUSA, please contact the Student Counseling Center (SCC) located in Modular C, Room 166 (Rear entrance) or call 210- 784-1331 Monday through Friday between the hours of 8am and 5pm. All mental health services provided by the SCC are free, confidential (as the law allows), and are not part of a student's academic or university record.

SCC provides brief individual and group therapy, crisis intervention, consultation, case management, and prevention services. For more information, please visit www.tamusa.edu/studentcounseling. In a crisis, please walk-in to the Student Counseling Center (SCC) any time between the hours of 8am and 5pm Monday – Friday, to be seen by a clinician. For after-hours support, call 210-784-1331. Contact UPD at 911 if harm to self or harm to others is imminent.

Instructor contact policy & email etiquette

I am available by email until 8pm on weekdays (Monday through Friday). On the weekend, I will do my best to respond to emails within 48 hours of receiving an email. I expect that when you send me an email message, it comes with a proper greeting and closing and from your official Jaguar email address. Thus, to get a response, you should:

- 1) Send your email ONLY from your officially recognized TAMUSA email. I will not respond to a personal email...
- 2) Have a clear explication of your question/issue/problem (This book had me ROTFL—is unclear)
- 3) Include a proper closing with your name (Thank you/Best/Something like this, John).

All correspondence between professors and students must occur via university email accounts. You must have a TAMUSA Jagwire email account ready and working. If it is not working, contact the help desk at sahelp@tamusa.tamus.edu or at 210-784- 4357. If you do not hear back from them within 48 hours, contact them again. They have a lot of requests during the first part of the semester, so you may need to check up on them. I

My office hours - by Zoom: Meeting ID: 970 9179 1350

- Monday - 12pm to 1:30pm & 3pm to 5pm
- Tuesday - 9am to 10:30am & 12pm to 4pm
- Wednesday - 12pm to 1:30pm & 3pm to 5pm
- Thursday - 9am to 10:30am & 12pm to 4pm

Always keep a copy of the syllabus with you. It contains everything you will need to complete the assignments for this semester. Also, I will distribute course materials, including announcements and updates, via Blackboard, so I encourage you to log-in to that system at least three times a week to stay updated on our class. I will not answer questions about what we went over in class on the days you missed.

Assignment submission:

All written submissions should be submitted a Word document in Blackboard, not in any other format (and never by email). Please post your answers in black, not in any other color (do not color code your responses). Also, it is recommended that students adhere to a consistent format as follows:

- All assignments (including exams) are to be submitted in Blackboard as instructed by each assignment.
- Typewritten in New Times New Roman or similar 12-point font. Page margins Top, Bottom, Left Side and Right Side = 1 inch, with reasonable accommodation being made for special situations and online submission variances.
- When responding to the assignments, please follow the instructions of the assignment. For example – if you are doing a chapter assignment with a series of questions, DO NOT place your answers to the assignment in bullet points or one big paragraph/essay for me to decipher which response answers goes to the right question. This is not an essay, unless an essay is described in the instructions of each assignment. If you submit an assignment in this way, you will lose 50% of the points eligible for that assignment...
- Submissions are to be made by Word document. If you use PDF, PLEASE let me know BEFORE submitting your assignment so that I can ensure that I have received and can access your assignment to grade. If there is an issue with the receipt of your submission, I will only ask you for an updated submission ONCE. If it is not received by the due date, you will automatically receive a zero “0”.
- You will only receive one (1) attempt to submit your assignment. Make sure to submit the correct response to each assignment. Please make it count as you will receive a ZERO if you submit the assignment in the wrong form or I cannot access it. Following instructions is a part of a successful assignment submission.
- Please let me know if you have any issues BEFORE an assignment’s due date so that together, we can work through the issue. Your success in class is important to me, but it must also be important to you. Let’s work together so that you can pass this course!

Course Policies: Best practices on how to pass this course –

1. This is an ONLINE course. All instructions, readings and assignments will be administered online. We will not meet face to face. Please make sure that this is the class that you registered for.
2. It is your responsibility to ensure that your Jaguar email and Blackboard are working – not just to submit assignments but to also access the textbook and other material for this class.
3. COMPUTER REQUIREMENTS: Use a desk or laptop computer to log into Blackboard to submit assignments (please review the assignment submission information above to comply with those instructions). Blackboard works better on Chrome, Mozilla Firefox, or Safari browsers. If you use a smart phone, an iPad, tablet, or application, make sure to check with me BEFORE THE DUE DATE to ensure that your assignment has been submitted and received on my end. After the due date has passed, if an assignment is submitted that I do not receive or cannot open on my end, you may not be asked to re-submit it. You will instead receive a “zero” for the missing assignment.

For the first days of class (class begins on Tuesday, 16 January 2023), I will only be available by email at mrichardson@tamusa.edu. Please feel free to drop in and introduce yourself or receive assistance for an assignment. Here is my office hours schedule:
 - Monday - 12pm to 1:30pm & 3pm to 5pm
 - Tuesday - 12pm to 4pm
 - Wednesday - 12pm to 1:30pm & 3pm to 5pm
 - Thursday - 12pm to 4pm
 - Friday - 12pm to 3pm (depending on professional development or duty hours)
7. CLASS COMMUNICATION: You may be emailed throughout the week with information regarding class related topics like the assignments and announcements, as well as the Zoom information so that students can drop in to ask questions or discuss issues with the assignments. I am also reachable by email and Blackboard messages/chat daily Monday through Friday. Any email sent to me after 8:00pm will not be answered until the next day after I have completed my classes scheduled. On the weekends, On the weekend, it may take up to 48 hours to respond after I have received your email.
8. THE SYLLABUS: Keep up with the syllabus and the dates of each assignment. Make a copy of it and keep it with you, place the dates of each assignment on your calendar. But please be advised: I will not answer emails regarding what a student may have missed if they were not able to participate in an assignment. Our syllabus and your Blackboard include a schedule with every assignment and instructions.
9. Complete and submit all assignments in Blackboard on time as instructed. Each chapter AND reflection assignment has its own individual deadline. An extension for all chapter & reflection assignments will be open until 10pm on Sunday, 28 April 2024. However, this will come with a (ten) 10-point deduction off the top for late chapter assignments and (three) 3-point deduction for late reflection assignments. Please adhere to the instructions listed in each assignment. Submit all assignments in a Word document ONLY – never in any other form UNLESS otherwise instructed.
10. There may be extra credit offered during the semester but details of how it may be used will be determined at the instructor's sole discretion. DO NOT depend on the offering of extra credit to help build your grade. Your adherence to our syllabus and assignment completion should be practiced throughout the semester.

11. It is okay to advocate for yourself. I want to assist you as much as I can, but it only goes so far – students will have to meet me halfway. Do the work and do not hesitate to let me know when you need help. It ties my hands if you wait too long to ask for help as a deadline passes (I know that we all procrastinate but doing so for each assignment may eat away time needed to get assistance on an assignment). Missing a deadline; submitting an incomplete/incorrectly done assignment or submitting an assignment in the wrong place are not emergencies for me.
12. Communication is key and must FLOW BOTH WAYS. This is not for me to get up into your business... rather an opportunity for us to get ahead of a concern and allow me the chance to help you if I can. Let me know if something happens that may hinder your ability to participate for this class (assistance done on a case-by-case basis).
13. Respect for each other is expected. Inappropriate behavior and disrespect are not welcomed. It will result in an immediate end to the conversation and/or removal from class. I ask for all students to respect each other’s opinions. It is okay if we disagree, but we can do so respectfully. If there is a point of disagreement, please refrain from mocking each other. Let me know so that I can address it. Please remember that as you wish for respect to make your comment you must also respect that right of others.
14. Do not wait until the end of the semester to worry about your grade. Adherence to the syllabus for all assignments should be practiced during the entire semester. Every point counts!! The grade you are given is the grade you will have earned by the work you have done throughout the semester. I do not grade by curves, and I will not add points that have not be earned to boost a grade. I will not haggle over grades or tolerate frivolous requests for re-grades (e.g., requests to boost the grade beyond the work you as the student has already submitted for a grade). It is up to you to maximize whatever assignment/extra credit opportunities you receive. Keeping up with ALL assignments and caring about YOUR grade should be practiced throughout the semester. Care enough about your grade to put your best effort into EVERY ASSIGNMENT...not just at the end of the semester.
15. Follow instructions and ask for clarification BEFORE submitting an assignment. Read the instructions for each assignment (and questions as well). Please make sure to number your answers according to the questions they respond to. Answer a question in its entirety. This may sound silly but do not give a partial response to a question or half do an assignment and expect to receive full credit. That is where I usually see students lose points – because they were speeding through the assignments and missed questions or did not follow the instructions to a question. Partial responses/work will result in partial credit.
16. Enjoy the journey that we will take this semester! Let me know how I can help!
