WHAT THIS CLASS ACTUALLY IS

Catalog Description – An examination of the structures, functions, and historical development of the major mass media industries, as well as the impact they have had on American society.

Course Objectives – By the end of this course, students should be able to do each of the following:

1. Understand each of the industries that participate in producing mass media content
2. Understand some of the potential effects of media content
3. Analyze how mass media and culture work together to generate and perpetuate meaning

GETTING/KEEPING IN TOUCH

The best ways to get in touch with me are (1) talk to me in person during office hours and (2) through email (listed at the top of the page). DO NOT (repeat, DO NOT) try to get in touch with me through Blackboard Messaging. I don't ever check that, so let's just avoid that altogether.

REQUIRED TEXT

Media & Culture: Mass Communication in a Digital Age, 13th edition, by Richard Campbell, Christopher Martin, Bettina Fabos, and Ron Becker. Published as an e-book by MacMillan. You will need to make a purchase that includes not only the e-book, but also access to Achieve (MacMillan's online learning platform). I would recommend purchasing this directly from the publisher, as it almost always costs less money, but you are free to choose as you will (as long as your choice involves you purchasing access to both the book and Achieve).

You should be able to do all of this by going to Course Content -> Week 1 Materials -> Orientation Assignment. What's supposed to happen is that you click on the Orientation Assignment, and then you get taken out of Blackboard and into Achieve, and then you can register for Achieve and purchase access to the book. If you are purchasing the book from the campus bookstore website, DO NOT click on the link titled Connect Online Access for Introduction to Mass Communication. Only click on the Achieve link.

HOW THIS CLASS IS GOING TO WORK

This semester, we'll be going through mass communication, or at least as much of it as we can. We'll do this by talking about each American mass communication industry, from its history to how it works and affects our culture today.

Each week will center on one chapter. The chapters will largely be presented to you in a basically chronological order, from Books through The Internet, after which we will cover the business of mass media and issues dealing with democratic expression.

For each chapter that we read, students will need to complete a LearningCurve assignment (this is an adaptive reading assignment), plus any other assignment that I give related to the course content.

WHAT YOU'LL BE DOING THIS SEMESTER

Reading Assignments

We will be covering 13 different chapters this semester. For each chapter that we cover, you will be responsible for completing a LearningCurve assignment; these will be due 2 days after we finish class discussion of that chapter. For example – since our discussion of Chapter 11 will finish on Thursday, April 4, you will be required to complete your Chapter 11 LearningCurve assignment by the end of Saturday, April 4 (Happy Easter!).

LearningCurve assignments will be administered through Achieve, your textbook publisher's learning platform (and the same place that you'll access your e-book).

Chapter Activities

Students will also be required to complete an assignment after we conclude discussion of each chapter that applies what you learned in that chapter. While you will not be assigned an activity for every single chapter, those activities you are assigned should be released to Blackboard after Wednesday's class and due (also to Blackboard) by 11:59 PM on the following Friday.

All of the written activities that you complete this semester will need to be submitted as a Google Doc with a visible edit history. In addition, you may use Grammarly for Education to help with your writing and with generating ideas (sign up for free by clicking on the link).

Any other use of generative AI is prohibited. If you turn in an assignment that I suspect has been substantially written by AI, then I will give you a zero for that assignment until either (a) we discuss your work to my satisfaction or (b) you rewrite it, yourself, and I will assess a slight penalty when I grade it.

Quizzes

This course is divided into three units – Intro/Words and Pictures, Sounds and Images/Interactive Media, and Business/Democratic Expression of Mass Media. Each of these units will end with a quiz. Each unit quiz will open after the last lecture of that unit and be due before the beginning of the first lecture of the next unit. Quizzes will be administered through Blackboard. Since these will be online quizzes, it would be easy for you to think of them as open-book quizzes. Each quiz will have a time limit, though, which means that you really should study and/or have notes prepared before you start. For each quiz, you will have one chance to complete it, and you will need to complete it in one sitting.

Final Exam

You will take a comprehensive final exam during Finals Week (specific date and time are on the course calendar). You will not be able to use notes, but I will provide you with a review sheet ahead of time. I will also provide each of you with a Scantron sheet to use.

GRADING SUMMARY AND BREAKDOWN

Readings (LearningCurve Assignments)

- 10% of total grade
- Due by 11:59 PM, two days after chapter discussion ends

- Late submissions accepted for up to one week after due date, with a 10% penalty per day

CLASS POLICIES

Attendance:

Attendance is mandatory for this class and all others in the Communication program. If you do miss a class, it is your responsibility to check Blackboard, find out about any assignments/due dates/handouts/announcements that were covered in the class(es) you missed, and make up any work you missed.

Absences:

Missing the equivalent of two weeks of class due to unexcused absences will reduce your final grade for the course by one full letter grade. Missing the equivalent of three weeks of class due to unexcused absences means that you cannot pass the course. Should this happen, you will (a) need to drop the course or (b) receive a failing grade. In a course like this one, six absences is the equivalent of missing three weeks of class.

- An excused absence is one in which you miss class either for a required activity or because of illness (excessive excused absences can also result in you not passing the class).
- An unexcused absence is any other absence.

Arriving on time:

This course begins at 11 AM every Tuesday and Thursday. If you arrive after attendance has been recorded, then you will be counted late for that class session.

Accumulated lates:

Three lates equals one unexcused absence. I can tell you from experience that these add up more quickly than you'd think.

Classroom distractions:

If you're doing something in class that has nothing to do with what we're covering that day, then I'm likely to be distracted by what you're doing. If you distract me, I will ask you as politely as possible to stop. If you persist in the distracting behavior, then you will be removed from class for the remainder of that day's class.

Financial Aid and Verification of Attendance

According to the following federal regulation, 34 CFR 668.21: U.S. Department of Education (DoE) Title IV regulation, a student can only receive Title IV funds based on Title IV eligibility criteria which include class attendance. If Title IV funds are disbursed to ineligible students (including students who fail to begin attendance), the institution must return these funds to the U.S. DoE within 30 days of becoming aware that the student will not or has not begun attendance. Faculty will provide the Office of Financial Aid with an electronic notification if a student has not attended by the published Census Date (the first week of class). Any student receiving federal financial aid who does not attend prior to the published Census Date (the first week of class) will have their aid terminated and returned to the DoE. Please note that any student who stops attending at any time during the semester may also need to return a portion of their federal aid.

Religious Observances

Texas A&M University-San Antonio recognizes the wide variety of faiths represented among the campus community and protects the rights of students, faculty, and staff to observe religious holidays according to their tradition. Under the policy, students are provided an opportunity to make up any examination, study, or course work requirements that may be missed due to a religious observance provided they notify their instructors before the end of the second week of classes for regular session classes.

The Six-Drop Rule

Students are subject to the requirements of Senate Bill (SB) 1231 passed by the Texas Legislature in 2007. SB 1231 limits students to a maximum of six (6) non-punitive course drops (i.e., courses a student chooses to drop) during their undergraduate careers. A non-punitive drop does not affect the student's GPA. However, course drops that exceed the maximum allowed by SB 1231 will be treated as "F" grades and will impact the student's GPA.

Statement of Harassment and Discrimination

Texas A&M University-San Antonio is committed to the fundamental principles of academic freedom, equal opportunity, and human dignity. To fulfill its multiple missions as an institution of higher learning, A&M-San Antonio encourages a climate that values and nurtures collegiality and the uniqueness of the individual on our campus and within our state, nation, and world. All decisions and actions involving students and employees are to be based on applicable law and individual merit. Texas A&M University-San Antonio, in accordance with applicable federal and state law, prohibits discrimination, including harassment, on the basis of race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, veteran status, sexual orientation, or pregnancy/parenting status. Individuals who believe they have experienced harassment or discrimination prohibited by this statement are encouraged to contact the University's Civil Rights Officer at 210-784-2061 or titleix@tamus.edu.

Texas A&M University-San Antonio faculty are committed to providing a safe learning environment for all students and for the university as a whole. If you have experienced any form of sex discrimination or harassment, including sexual assault, sexual harassment, domestic or dating violence, or stalking based on sex, know that help and support are available. A&M-San Antonio's Title IX Coordinator can support those impacted by such conduct in navigating campus life, accessing health and counseling services, providing academic and housing accommodations, and more. The university strongly encourages all students to report any such incidents to the Title IX Coordinator. Please be aware that all A&M-San Antonio employees (other than those designated as confidential resources such as counselors and trained victim advocates) are required to report information about such discrimination and harassment to the university. This means that if you tell a faculty member about a situation of sexual harassment, sexual violence, or other related sex-based misconduct, the faculty member must share that information with the university's Title IX Coordinator (titleix@tamusa.edu, 210-784-2061, CAB 439K). If you wish to speak to a confidential employee who does not have this reporting requirement, you can contact the Student Counseling Center at (210) 784-1331 or visit them in Madla 120.

Pregnant/Parenting Students

Texas A&M-San Antonio does not require a pregnant or parenting student, solely because of that status or issues related to that status, to (1) take a leave of absence or withdraw from their degree or certificate program; (2) limit the student's studies; (3) participate in an alternative program; (4) change the student's major, degree, or certificate program; or (5) refrain from joining or cease participating in any course, activity, or program at the University. The university will provide such reasonable accommodations to pregnant students as would be provided to a student with a temporary medical condition that are related to the health and safety of the student and the student's unborn child. These could include maintaining a safe distance from substances, areas, and activities known to be hazardous to pregnant individuals and their unborn child; excused absences because of illness or medical appointments; modified due dates for assignments; rescheduled tests/exams; taking a leave of absence; and being provided access to instructional materials and video recordings of lectures for excused absences, if these would be provided to any other student with an excused absence. Pregnant/parenting students are encouraged to contact the Title IX Coordinator with any questions or concerns related to their status (titleix@tamusa.edu; 210-784-2061; CAB 439K).

Texas A&M-San Antonio has also designated the Title IX Coordinator as the liaison officer for current or incoming students who are the parent or guardian of a child younger than 18 years of age. The Title IX Coordinator can provide students with information regarding support services and other resources. Young Jaguars can support parenting students with daycare if students meet this criteria: (1) must be enrolled in classes at Texas A&M-San Antonio in the current semester, (2) must be Pell eligible or a single parent, (3) child(ren) must be aged 3 to 12-years-old, and (4) child(ren) must be enrolled in Pre-K-3 through 6th grade. For more information, please contact Young Jaguars at youngjaguars@tamusa.edu or call (210) 784-2636.

Students' Rights and Responsibilities

The following statement of students' rights and responsibilities is intended to reflect the philosophical base upon which University Student Rules are built. This philosophy acknowledges the existence of both rights and responsibilities, which is inherent to an individual not only as a student at Texas A&M University-San Antonio but also as a citizen of this country.

Students' Rights

1. A student shall have the right to participate in a free exchange of ideas, and there shall be no University rule or administrative rule that in any way abridges the rights of freedom of speech, expression, petition and peaceful assembly as set forth in the U.S. Constitution.
2. Each student shall have the right to participate in all areas and activities of the University, free from any form of discrimination, including harassment, on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin, religion, sex, disability, age, and pregnancy/parenting or veteran status in accordance with applicable federal and state laws.
3. A student has the right to personal privacy except as otherwise provided by law, and this will be observed by students and University authorities alike.
4. Each student subject to disciplinary action arising from violations of university student rules shall be assured a fundamentally fair process.

Students' Responsibilities

1. A student has the responsibility to respect the rights and property of others, including other students, the faculty, and administration.
2. A student has the responsibility to be fully acquainted with the published University Student Rules found in the Student Handbook, Student Code of Conduct, on our website, and University Catalog, and to comply with them, as well as with federal, state, and local laws.
3. A student has the responsibility to recognize that student actions reflect upon the individuals involved and upon the entire University community.
4. A student has the responsibility to recognize the University's obligation to provide a safe environment for learning.
5. A student has the responsibility to check their university email for any updates or official university notifications.

We expect that students will behave in a manner that is dignified, respectful, and courteous to all people, regardless of sex, ethnic/racial origin, religious background, or disability. Conduct that infringes on the rights of another individual will not be tolerated.

Students are expected to exhibit a high level of honesty and integrity in their pursuit of higher education. Students engaging in an act that violates the standards of academic integrity will find themselves facing academic and/or disciplinary sanctions. Academic misconduct is any act, or attempt, which gives an unfair advantage to the student. Additionally, any behavior specifically prohibited by a faculty member in the course syllabus or class discussion may be considered as academic misconduct. For more information on academic misconduct policies and procedures please review the Student Code of Conduct or visit the resources available in the OSRR website

Use of Generative AI Permitted Under Some Circumstances or With Explicit Permission

There are situations and contexts within this course where you may be asked to use artificial intelligence (AI) tools, including ChatGPT, to explore how they can be used. Outside of those circumstances, you should not use AI tools to generate content (text, video, audio, images) that will end up in any student work (assignments, activities, discussion responses, etc.) that is part of your evaluation in this course. Any student work submitted using AI tools should clearly indicate with attribution what work is the student's work and what part is generated by the AI. If any part of this is confusing or uncertain, students should reach out to their instructor for clarification before submitting work for grading. Use of AI-generated content without the instructor's permission and/or proper attribution in this course qualifies as academic dishonesty and violates Texas A&M-San Antonio's standards of academic integrity.

NOTE: Guidance for how to cite AI-generators, like ChatGPT, can be found here
