COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course offers an introduction to certain vital aspects of the history of the United States from European colonization to the end of the Civil War. It will focus on four: the nature and impact of European colonization; how the U.S. came to be an independent nation; how slavery almost destroyed that nation in the 1850s and 1860s; and how the U.S. has continually struggled to deal with its diversity. Through the textbook and readings, students will be exposed to the different ways that historians "do" history; thus, we have works widely regarded as a model of the new "inclusive" history. To give you the experience of working with primary sources, the "stuff" of history. Toward that end, we are reading the autobiography of Frederick Douglass.

The greatest problem of a course that attempts to cover over three hundred years of U.S. history in 18 weeks is that exceedingly hard choices have to be made. We cannot deal with everything that most historians would consider essential in a survey of American history, let alone all of the topics that are interesting and rewarding. Thus, I emphasize that this is an introduction to U.S. history that I hope will encourage you to explore certain aspects of it in greater depth in other courses or on your own.

LEARNING GOALS

Upon successful completion of this course, students will:

1. Create an argument through the use of historical evidence.
2. Analyze and interpret primary and secondary sources.
3. Analyze the effects of historical, social, political, economic, cultural, and global forces on this period of United States history.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS & ASSIGNMENTS

Attendance & Participation 10%

Quizzes 15%

(3) Exams 60%

Frederick Douglass Book Essay Exam 15%

Grade Scale: A (90%-up); B (80-89%); C (70-79%); D (60-69%); F (0-59%)

Attendance Policy (10%):

I take attendance every class period. The course meets twice per week, so up to four absences are allowed. Being absent more than that will affect your attendance grade and make it difficult for you to do well in the course. The Learning Management System will automatically drop the lowest 2 absences so there is no need to email me if you will be out.

Quizzes (15%):

Students will take 3 low-stakes quizzes primarily based on the readings and lecture: 2/9, 3/2, and 4/20. Quizzes are short, approximately 5-10 questions, proctored at the end of class. Quizzes will equip you for unit examinations.

Exams (60%)

You will have three in-person unit exams. Exam 1, Feb. 16, Exam 2, March 16, and Exam 3, May 4. The exams will be a mix of multiple choice, T/F, matching, short-answer, and essay questions. You will receive a study guide and review to help you prepare for the examinations. Students will need to bring a scantron, a blue book, and a number 2 pencil to the three exams.

Frederick Douglass Quiz & Essay Exam (15%)

Students will complete a book quiz, (5%), March 30 consisting of 10 short answer questions proctored in the first twenty minutes of class. Students will complete a longer in-class essay exam, (10%), April 13 to assess understanding of argument, content, historical context, and citation. Students will need a blue book for the essay exam. Make-up essays only are allowed for emergencies such as debilitating illness, a death in the immediate family, and religious or school functions. In any case, documentation must be provided in order for the student to be allowed a make-up essay.

Make-up Exam Policy:

Exams only will be given on the date assigned on the course calendar. Makeup exams only are allowed for emergencies such as debilitating illness, a death in the immediate family, and religious or school functions. In any case, documentation must be provided in order for the student to be allowed a make-up exam. Missed exams must be made up within a week at the testing center. The testing center has its own policies and procedures. Students must register for an exam appointment at <https://www.tamusa.edu/academics/testing-center/index.html>. The testing center does not accept walk-in's. Students must register 12 hours in advance of the day you want to test. As you noticed, these are all steps that are initiated by the student, and not the professor--that's more work on the student. At the discretion of the instructor, the make-up exam may not be the same format as the class exams. The Testing Center exam is the final make-up available so if you miss this second opportunity, you will receive a 0.

Blackboard:

This course has a Blackboard site. The syllabus, additional reading assignments, and study guides will be posted there, as well as announcements and grades throughout the semester. I do not post lecture notes online—you must attend class and take your own notes. If you are absent, you will need to get lecture notes from someone else in the course.

A non-punitive drop does not affect the student's GPA. However, course drops that exceed the maximum allowed by SB 1231 will be treated as "F" grades and will impact the student's GPA.

Statement of Harassment and Discrimination

Texas A&M University-San Antonio is committed to the fundamental principles of academic freedom, equal opportunity, and human dignity. To fulfill its multiple missions as an institution of higher learning, A&M-San Antonio encourages a climate that values and nurtures collegiality and the uniqueness of the individual on our campus and within our state, nation, and world. Texas A&M University-San Antonio faculty are committed to providing a safe learning environment for all students and for the university. If you have experienced any form of sex discrimination or harassment, including sexual assault, sexual harassment, domestic or dating violence, or stalking based on sex, know that help and support are available. A&M-San Antonio's Title IX Coordinator can support those impacted by such conduct in navigating campus life, accessing health and counseling services, providing academic and housing accommodations, and more. The university strongly encourages all students to report any such incidents to the Title IX Coordinator. Please be aware that all A&M-San Antonio employees (other than those designated as confidential resources such as counselors and trained victim advocates) are required to report information about such discrimination and harassment to the university. This means that if you tell a faculty member about a situation of sexual harassment, sexual violence, or other related sex-based misconduct, the faculty member must share that information with the university's Title IX Coordinator (titleix@tamusa.edu, 210-784-2061, CAB 439K). If you wish to speak to a confidential employee who does not have this reporting requirement, you can contact the Student Counseling Center at (210) 784-1331 or visit them in Madla 120.

Pregnant/Parenting Students

Texas A&M-San Antonio does not require a pregnant or parenting student, solely because of that status or issues related to that status, to (1) take a leave of absence or withdraw from their degree or certificate program; (2) limit the student's studies; (3) participate in an alternative program; (4) change the student's major, degree, or certificate program; or (5) refrain from joining or cease participating in any course, activity, or program at the University. The university will provide reasonable accommodation for pregnant students as it would be provided to a student with a temporary medical condition that is related to the health and safety of the student and the student's unborn child. These could include maintaining a safe distance from substances, areas, and activities known to be hazardous to pregnant individuals and their unborn child; excused absences because of illness or medical appointments; modified due dates for assignments; rescheduled tests/exams; taking a leave of absence; and being provided access to instructional materials and video recordings of lectures for excused absences, if these would be provided to any other student with an excused absence. Pregnant/parenting students are encouraged to contact the Title IX Coordinator with any questions or concerns related to their status (titleix@tamusa.edu; 210-784- 2061; CAB 439K).

Texas A&M-San Antonio has also designated the Title IX Coordinator as the liaison officer for current or incoming students who are the parent or guardian of a child younger than 18 years of age. The Title IX Coordinator can provide students with information regarding support services and other resources. Young Jaguars can support parenting students with daycare if students meet this criteria: (1) must be enrolled in classes at Texas A&M-San Antonio in the current semester, (2) must be Pell eligible or a single parent, (3) child(ren) must be aged 3 to 12-years-old, and (4) child(ren) must be enrolled in Pre-K-3 through 6th grade. For more information, please contact Young Jaguars at youngjaguars@tamusa.edu or call (210) 784-2636.

Students' Rights and Responsibilities

The following statement of students' rights and responsibilities is intended to reflect the philosophical base upon which University Student Rules are built. This philosophy acknowledges the existence of both rights and responsibilities, which is inherent to an individual not only as a student at Texas A&M University-San Antonio but also as a citizen of this country.

Students' Rights

1. A student shall have the right to participate in a free exchange of ideas, and there shall be no University rule or administrative rule that in any way abridges the rights of freedom of speech, expression, petition and peaceful assembly as set forth in the U.S. Constitution.
2. Each student shall have the right to participate in all areas and activities of the University, free from any form of discrimination, including harassment, on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin, religion, sex, disability, age, and pregnancy/parenting or veteran status in accordance with applicable federal and state laws.
3. A student has the right to personal privacy except as otherwise provided by law, and this will be observed by students and University authorities alike.
4. Each student subject to disciplinary action arising from violations of university students' rules shall be assured a fundamentally fair process.

Students' Responsibilities

1. A student has the responsibility to respect the rights and property of others, including other students, the faculty, and administration.
2. A student has the responsibility to be fully acquainted with the published University Student Rules found in the Student Handbook, Student Code of Conduct, on our website, and University Catalog, and to comply with them, as well as with federal, state, and local laws.

3. A student has the responsibility to recognize that student actions reflect upon the individuals involved and upon the entire University community.
4. A student has the responsibility to recognize the University's obligation to provide a safe environment for learning.
5. A student has the responsibility to check their university email for any updates or official university notifications.

Students are expected to exhibit a high level of honesty and integrity in their pursuit of higher education. Students engaging in an act that violates the standards of academic integrity will find themselves facing academic and/or disciplinary sanctions. Academic misconduct is any act, or attempt, which gives an unfair advantage to the student. Additionally, any behavior specifically prohibited by a faculty member in the course syllabus or class discussion may be considered as academic misconduct. For more information on academic misconduct policies and procedures please review the Student Code of Conduct or visit the resources available in the OSRR website.

Artificial Intelligence Policy

No Use of Generative AI Permitted in HIST 1301.905

This assumes that all work submitted by students will be generated by the students themselves, working individually or in groups. Students should not have another person/entity do the writing of any portion of an assignment for them, which includes hiring a person or a company to write assignments and/or using artificial intelligence (AI) tools like ChatGPT. Use of any AI-generated content in this course qualifies as academic dishonesty and violates Texas A&M-San Antonio's standards of academic integrity.
