Course Description:

This course explores the intricate and dynamic political landscapes of Latin America from its colonial origins, through 19th-century state-building, across the Cold War, to even contemporary politics. Students will delve into both pressing and historical political issues facing the region including economic inequality, corruption, democratic backsliding, and human rights. An emphasis will be placed on how these political issues impact governance and social stability. Course readings range from colonial texts, to Cold War interpretations of autocratic regimes, to contemporary studies on the region, and include close readings on numerous countries across the region, such as Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Mexico, Nicaragua, Peru, and Venezuela, among others. Students will also analyze Latin America's current relationship with the United States and China, as well as internal political dynamics to develop a comparative perspective for studying the region's shared challenges and potential.

Course Learning Objectives:

- Course Learning Objective 1: Understand the historical and socio-economic contexts that have influenced and structured Latin American politics.

- Course Learning Objective 2: Analyze political systems, ideologies, and institutions across Latin America.
- Course Learning Objective 3: Evaluate contemporary factors, including economics, religion, and immigration and their impacts on the region.

Graded Components:

1. 2-3 Page Short Essay Responses (2 total): These will be written essays where students will be given a prompt and will answer the prompt using class readings. Readings from class do not have to be cited – outside sources should be cited. Students should use this assignment to practice: 1) crafting a thesis statement, 2) developing paragraph topic sentences and ancillary paragraphs to build an argument, 3) synthesizing and employing sources, and 4) constructing a critical argument from introduction to conclusion that is concise and well supported. A full rubric will be provided for the assignment ahead of time. Responses must be 2-3 pages double-spaced, Times New Roman 12-point font, with 1-inch margins all around. The assignment will be open online on Blackboard with the prompt and students will have 5 days to complete the assignment. Students are not allowed to work with each other on this assignment.
2. Midterm Exam: Students will be given 3 questions to choose from and will be asked to answer 1 of the questions. A full rubric will be provided for the assignment ahead of time. The written exam response should be 3-5 pages double-spaced, Times New Roman 12-point font, with 1-inch margins all around. The assignment will be open on Blackboard and students will have 5 days to complete it and submit it via Blackboard. Students MUST cite at least 5 of the readings covered on the syllabus through the midterm in their response. The midterm will be virtual via Blackboard, open-notes and open-book. However, students are not allowed to collaborate or work with each other on the exam.

3. Final Exam: Students will be given 3 questions to choose from and will be asked to answer 1 of the questions. A full rubric will be provided for the assignment ahead of time. The written exam response should be 3-5 pages double-spaced, Times New Roman 12-point font, with 1-inch margins all around. The assignment will be open on Blackboard and students will have 5 days to complete it and submit it via Blackboard. Students MUST cite at least 5 of the readings covered on the syllabus since the midterm in their response. The final exam will be virtual via Blackboard, open-notes and open-book. However, students are not allowed to collaborate or work with each other on the exam.
4. Participation: Participation is an important part of student learning and classroom engagement, and therefore a part of the grade. To obtain full participation points a student must participate actively and consistently throughout the semester. However, I employ a broad definition of participation: asking a question, answering a colleague's question, asking a colleague to clarify their point, engaging in small group activities, helping a colleague during/after class, paying attention attentively as others speaks, pointing out a passage from the reading you would like clarification on, participating in classroom discussions, etc. Attendance will be taken regularly throughout the semester and will count towards your participation grade – each unexcused absence will result in a half point being subtracted from your participation grade.
5. Quizzes: These will be conducted weekly or biweekly throughout the semester and will focus on the assigned readings for that week and on material from previous lectures. Quizzes will be multiple choice, consisting of 5-7 questions. Students may complete the quiz at any given time during the 24-hour period that the quizzes are open on Blackboard, however, they will have 20 minutes and 1 attempt only to complete the quiz after opening it. The 3 lowest quiz grades will be dropped at the end of the semester.

Required Texts and Other Course Materials:

We will be reading chapters from the following books so having access to them is required. HOWEVER, they should be available through the university library website to download free of charge, as well as physically available to check out from library. All other readings will be posted as links or PDFs on Blackboard. A reliable internet connection and computer will also be a necessity throughout the semester to complete and submit assignments.

Late Work Policy:

All assignments are due on the specified time and date listed. All assignments submitted more than 15 minutes after they are due will be assessed a 5-percentage point late penalty. There will be an additional 5 percentage point penalty for each subsequent day that the assignment is late. No assignments will be accepted more than one week late.

Quizzes are all virtual, and CANNOT be made up. Extensions need to be arranged ahead of time with the instructor.

Attendance Policy:

Attendance is highly, highly encouraged because it usually correlates directly to learning outcomes in college-level courses. However, I understand there are many intervening factors that can cause a student to miss class. Try to come to class as much as possible and please communicate with me so we can work together on a plan to make up material or assignments missed due to unforeseen circumstances. Attendance will be taken regularly and will count as part of your participation grade.

Email Policy:

When you email me, please expect a reply in around 72 hours, and responses may be delayed further over the weekend. This is because of conflicting obligations with family, research, and hobbies. Thus, important questions regarding assignments should be asked well ahead of time because if asked very close to the due date and time – you may not hear from me until after the assignment is due. Emailing me to notify me of an emergency is, of course, a different and valid matter.

Phone and Computer Usage Policy:

I understand we live in a highly connected society and that emergencies arise that require immediate attention. Nevertheless, please refrain from cell phone usage during class unless it is an emergency, and please put phones on silent during class. Also, please limit your laptop usage during class to note-taking and other activities immediately related to the lecture to not disrupt your learning and that of those around you. Be present, be engaged, be active.

Blackboard Policy:

Please check Blackboard regularly for course updates, assignment announcements, or possible lecture cancellations. I will notify you in advance during class of upcoming assignments – but it is a good habit to check Blackboard regularly, especially if you have missed a class.

No Use of Generative AI Permitted

This course assumes that all work submitted by students will be generated by the students themselves, working individually or in groups. Students should not have another person/entity do the writing of any portion of an assignment for them, which includes hiring a person or a company to write assignments and/or using artificial intelligence (AI) tools like ChatGPT. Use of any AI-generated content in this course qualifies as academic dishonesty and violates Texas A&M-San Antonio's standards of academic integrity.
