Contact Guidelines

I will strive to be available to aid your learning process by providing several ways to contact me:

- Email: Please only use official university e-mail and include the course, section, and full name in the subject line. Please do not use Blackboard messages. The email noted above is my primary and preferred point of contact outside of the classroom. I will check my email regularly on Monday – Friday from 8:00 am to 5:00 pm. I will generally respond within 24 hours of your email. If you do not receive a reply after 24 hours, please email again and/or follow up directly with me in class or during office hours (see above). I will not be available by email during the weekends. Any emails received during the weekend will be replied to on the subsequent Monday. Please plan accordingly. Especially when it comes to clarifying assignment instructions and/or submission requirements. In all communications, please be professional in your tone and specific in your message (i.e., avoid informal correspondence styles like text messaging which lack appropriate punctuation and capitalization). Your correspondence MUST include the information specified above. If you send an email without sufficient information, I likely will not reply or may reply asking for clarification about your inquiry (this can result in an unnecessary delay). Please begin a new email thread instead of responding to older emails if you are beginning a new conversation unrelated to the previous email (this helps minimize confusion caused by chain replies).
- Office Hours: I will be available in my office (STEM 249B) to meet during office hours (see above) or by appointment. Office hours are dedicated to interacting with and providing students assistance regarding coursework. An appointment is not necessary to attend these hours, but interactions are limited to a first-come, first-served basis. If there is a specific assignment/materials or topic you want to discuss, providing advance notice will allow me to have these resources ready. If students cannot meet during these times, an alternative time can be requested via email, and I will do my best to try to accommodate students accordingly. For discussions involving more personal and/or sensitive information, some form of advance notice is recommended.

The following descriptions are intentionally brief. Detailed instructions will be available in class and through Blackboard throughout the semester. Each assignment will have a specific set of instructions students will be required to follow.

- Homework Assignments: Ten homework assignments will be administered throughout the semester, each worth 20 points. The topic/format of the homework assignment will depend on the content for the week.
- Exams: Four exams will be administered, each worth 80 points. Exam 1, Exam 2, and Exam 3 will be non-cumulative. Exam 4 (i.e., the final exam) will be cumulative. The exams will have questions that will vary in format (e.g., multiple choice, fill-in-the-blank). Exams will only be offered on the dates and times listed in the course schedule. There are no make-up opportunities for the exams once the deadline has passed. The only exceptions to this policy are valid excuses for absences (see Missed/Late Assignment Policy). The exam with the lowest grade will be dropped.
- Final Paper: You will be required to complete a final paper that will consist of writing the methods, results, and discussion sections for an experiment in APA format. Detailed instructions for the final paper (e.g., format, length) and rubric will be posted on Blackboard.

Statement of Harassment and Discrimination

Texas A&M University-San Antonio is committed to the fundamental principles of academic freedom, equal opportunity, and human dignity. To fulfill its multiple missions as an institution of higher learning, A&M-San Antonio encourages a climate that values and nurtures collegiality and the uniqueness of the individual on our campus and within our state, nation, and world. All decisions and actions involving students and employees are to be based on applicable law and individual merit. Texas A&M University-San Antonio, in accordance with applicable federal and state law, prohibits discrimination, including harassment, based on race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, veteran status, sexual orientation, or pregnancy/parenting status. Individuals who believe they have experienced harassment or discrimination prohibited by this statement are encouraged to contact the University's Civil Rights Officer at 210-784-2061 or titleix@tamusa.edu. Texas A&M University-San Antonio faculty are committed to providing a safe learning environment for all students and for the university. If you have experienced any form of sex discrimination or harassment, including sexual assault, sexual harassment, domestic or dating violence, or stalking based on sex, know that help and support are available. A&M-San Antonio's Title IX Coordinator can support those impacted by such conduct in navigating campus life, accessing health and counseling services, providing academic and housing accommodations, and more. The university strongly encourages all students to report any such incidents to the Title IX Coordinator. Please be aware that all A&M-San Antonio employees (other than those designated as confidential resources such as counselors and trained victim advocates) are required to report information about such discrimination and harassment to the university. This means that if you tell a faculty member about a situation of sexual harassment, sexual violence, or other related sex-based misconduct, the faculty member must share that information with the university's Title IX Coordinator (titleix@tamusa.edu, 210-784-2061, CAB 439K). If you wish to speak to a confidential employee who does not have this reporting requirement, you can contact the Student Counseling Center at (210) 784-1331 or visit them in Madla 120.

Pregnant/Parenting Students

Texas A&M-San Antonio does not require a pregnant or parenting student, solely because of that status or issues related to that status, to (1) take a leave of absence or withdraw from their degree or certificate program; (2) limit the student's studies; (3) participate in an alternative program; (4) change the student's major, degree, or certificate program; or (5) refrain from joining or cease participating in any course, activity, or program at the University. The university will provide reasonable accommodation for pregnant students as it would be provided to a student with a temporary medical condition that is related to the health and safety of the student and the student's unborn child. These could include maintaining a safe distance from substances, areas, and activities known to be hazardous to pregnant individuals and their unborn child; excused absences because of illness or medical appointments; modified due dates for assignments; rescheduled tests/exams; taking a leave of absence; and being provided access to instructional materials and video recordings of lectures for excused absences, if these would be provided to any other student with an excused absence. Pregnant/parenting students are encouraged to contact the Title IX Coordinator with any questions or concerns related to their status (titleix@tamusa.edu; 210-784- 2061; CAB 439K).

TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY SAN ANTONIO

Texas A&M-San Antonio has also designated the Title IX Coordinator as the liaison officer for current or incoming students who are the parent or guardian of a child younger than 18 years of age. The Title IX Coordinator can provide students with information regarding support services and other resources. Young Jaguars can support parenting students with daycare if students meet this criteria: (1) must be enrolled in classes at Texas A&M-San Antonio in the current semester, (2) must be Pell eligible or a single parent, (3) child(ren) must be aged 3 to 12-years-old, and (4) child(ren) must be enrolled in Pre-K-3 through 6th grade. Students' Rights and Responsibilities

The following statement of students' rights and responsibilities is intended to reflect the philosophical base upon which University Student Rules are built. This philosophy acknowledges the existence of both rights and responsibilities, which is inherent to an individual not only as a student at Texas A&M University-San Antonio but also as a citizen of this country.

Students' Rights

2. Each student shall have the right to participate in all areas and activities of the University, free from any form of discrimination, including harassment, on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin, religion, sex, disability, age, and pregnancy/parenting or veteran status in accordance with applicable federal and state laws.
3. A student has the right to personal privacy except as otherwise provided by law, and this will be observed by students and University authorities alike.
4. Each student subject to disciplinary action arising from violations of university students' rules shall be assured a fundamentally fair process.

Students' Responsibilities

1. A student has the responsibility to respect the rights and property of others, including other students, the faculty, and administration.

TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY
SAN ANTONIO
