Physical Change and Aging

A Guide for the Helping Professions

7th Edition

Course Description

This course will explore in-depth information regarding the health issues of aging individuals, including physical health, psychological health, chronic diseases, legal and ethical issues of health and Medicare/Medicaid.

Course Overview

The course is designed to provide exercise and health professionals with an overview of issues related to health and aging. The course will cover the concept of successful aging, the implications of chronic disease and disability, health promotion and programs/services for the aging population. For the semester project, students will research a topic on a current health issue and will practice leading and/or facilitating a health topic presentation or physical activity demonstration to their peers.

Learning Outcomes

At the end of this course, the student will be able to:

1. Describe and explain the major health problems and issues for older populations and the implications for public health practice.
2. Describe the nutrition and physical activity recommendations for older adults.
3. Identify current strategies for health promotion and disease prevention for older adults.
4. Research a health issue impacting older adults and facilitate a health discussion or physical activity demonstration

Course Policies

The general policy outlined by the University will be followed as stated in the Student Handbook. There are no 'free' unexcused absences.

The instructor's policy for this course includes:

Your presence is expected in class daily except for emergencies. Students assume responsibility for any material missed in class. Arrange to pick up handouts as soon as possible. It is YOUR responsibility to make up missed work.

Requests to be absent from class for official University business (athletics, field trips, student government, etc.) shall be made prior to the anticipated absence. Arrangements for missed work will be made at that time.

If you miss an exam or quiz or do not show up on the day of a presentation/exam or when an assignment is due without prior arrangement with the instructor, no make-up will be allowed unless there is a documented emergency.

If there is an emergency (hospital, funeral, etc.) please contact me the day of the problem or the day you missed class.

If you cannot participate in a class activity you must have documentation (hurt ankle, sick, etc.), otherwise you will receive half credit for being there but not participating.

Excused Absences

A. In the event that you need to be away for a given period of time (e.g. funerals, hospital stays, family emergencies, military duty, etc.), you should contact Student Counseling Center (210-784-1331 (or 1329); StuCounseling@tamusa.edu or StuWellness@tamusa.edu). If you will be missing more than a week of classes (whether continuous or not), inform them of the situation and they can send a notice to all your instructors rather than you having to explain to each of them your circumstances.

Attendance and Course Expectations

Regular class attendance is a crucial component of a student's educational experience. Missing classes can significantly affect the quality of a student's coursework, potentially leading to unsatisfactory grades. In some cases, excessive absences may even result in a student being dropped from courses at the recommendation of the instructor to the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs.

At Texas A&M - San Antonio, students are expected to attend all their classes. However, the university's attendance policy does provide exceptions for absences due to officially sanctioned university events, religious observances, or military service. Students qualifying for these excused absences should inform their instructor ahead of time and make arrangements to complete any missed assignments or exams.

Late Work & Extra Credit Policy

All class work is due on the date and time assigned. Work received later than the due date will not be accepted, No Exceptions.

Students can receive an extension on an assignment, quiz or exam only if there is an unavoidable circumstance such as family emergencies or health emergency etc.

(non-emergency situations such as personal issues, computer/technology issues or work-related excuses will not be accepted). Documentation must be provided or will result in point deduction. Students must contact the instructor to receive the approval and make arrangements.

Maintain Communication with your instructor as things arise in one's life.

I do not offer extra credit or Independent Studies if an acceptable grade is not earned.

Instructional Methods

This course is offered as a blended course. Much of the work in this course will occur online in Blackboard. Online activities and in-class activities are designed to build on each other. Active participation in the online activities and completion of all coursework is required in this course. In Blackboard, you will interact with course content, your classmates, and myself in a variety of online activities. I suggest setting aside days and times for completing the online course activities.

The typical structure in Blackboard will consist of learning modules, which include:

- Short Video/PowerPoint Lectures
- Readings
- Quizzes
- Assignments

This course will meet face-to-face two days per week (Tuesdays and Thursdays). The typical activities in the face-to-face classroom can include interacting with guest speakers, engaging with your classmates and myself in question-and-answer sessions, discussing major concepts, practicing difficult key concepts and completing exams.

Grade Requirements

A grade of 70 “C” or better must be earned in this course to satisfy Kinesiology requirements.

Majors who do not earn a grade of “C” or better will be required to repeat the course. Please note: No changes to your final grade will occur once class has ended unless I have made a mistake. You are given the opportunity to follow your grade throughout the semester thus you should not be surprised with the grade you earn.

Blackboard: All announcements, assignments, power points and tests etc., will be posted on Blackboard (except for those that require signatures).

Assignments and Assessments

Turnitin-

All written assignments for this course will be submitted through Turnitin, a plagiarism detection service, to verify the originality of your work. By submitting your assignments, you agree to have your work compared to a database of electronic sources and other student papers. While Turnitin provides a similarity report, the final determination of plagiarism rests with the instructor based on their review of the submitted work and relevant academic standards.

Generative Artificial Intelligence (GenAI) Policy

No Use of Generative AI Permitted.

EDKN 4344 assumes that all work submitted by students will be generated by the students themselves, working individually or in groups. Students should not have another person/entity do the writing of any portion of an assignment for them, which includes hiring a person or a company to write assignments and/or using artificial intelligence (AI) tools like ChatGPT. Use of any AI-generated content in this course qualifies as academic dishonesty and violates Texas A&M-San Antonio’s standards of academic integrity.

Option 3 - Broader Use of Generative AI Permitted Within Guidelines

Use of artificial intelligence (AI) tools, including ChatGPT, is permitted in this course for students who wish to use them. To adhere to our scholarly values, students must cite any AI-generated material that informed their work (this includes in-text citations and/or use of quotations, and in your reference list). Using an AI tool to generate content without proper attribution qualifies as academic dishonesty and violates Texas A&M-San Antonio’s standards of academic integrity.

- Basics of the APA Style or Avoiding Plagiarism Workshop (2 points)-Assignment

Each student will be required to complete an APA or avoiding plagiarism workshop online quiz:

- Quizzes x12 (2% each)

You will be responsible for assigned readings to complete weekly quizzes. You will utilize your chapter summaries to prepare for the quizzes.

- Chapter Summaries x12 (2% each)

To encourage deep engagement and critical thinking regarding weekly readings on health and aging, students will write a chapter summary assessing the content, their personal insights, and potential applications of the knowledge gained.

- Mid-Term Exam (15%)Final Exam (15%)

Students will complete a mid-term exam covering half of the semester. Students will complete a final exam covering the remainder of the semester. The exams are located in Blackboard (Exams & Quizzes). Students are required to read the chapters, videos and or lecture slides before beginning an exam. Please have a hard-wired internet connection before beginning the exam. The information for all the exams will come from all material within the course, including lectures, documentaries, or videos. The exam will be made of multiple-choice, true/false, and or matching questions. All exam questions will be delivered in a randomized order; no one will have the same version of the exam. Your questions will be delivered one at a time and must be answered as presented, or you will forfeit the opportunity to answer the question.

In this course, students will be required to complete one essay following the APA (American Psychological Association) format. This assignment is designed to enhance analytical and writing skills, with a focus on adhering to the structured guidelines of APA style. Through these essays, students will demonstrate their ability to conduct research, critically engage with material, and present their findings in a clear, professional manner.

- Semester Project (10%)

Students will be required to complete a semester project on a current health issue utilizing information and knowledge gained from this course. The semester project may address: physical health, psychological health, chronic diseases, legal and ethical issues of health, and/or Medicare/Medicaid.

APA Style

The university will provide such reasonable accommodations to pregnant students as would be provided to a student with a temporary medical condition that are related to the health and safety of the student and the student's unborn child. These could include maintaining a safe distance from substances, areas, and activities known to be hazardous to pregnant individuals and their unborn child; excused absences because of illness or medical appointments; modified due dates for assignments; rescheduled tests/exams; taking a leave of absence; and being provided access to instructional materials and video recordings of lectures for excused absences, if these would be provided to any other student with an excused absence. Each student shall have the right to participate in all areas and activities of the University, free from any form of discrimination, including harassment, on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin, religion, sex, disability, age, and pregnancy/parenting or veteran status in accordance with applicable federal and state laws.

4. Each student subject to disciplinary action arising from violations of university student rules shall be assured a fundamentally fair process.

Students' Responsibilities

1. A student has the responsibility to respect the rights and property of others, including other students, the faculty, and administration.
2. A student has the responsibility to be fully acquainted with the published University Student Rules found in the Student Handbook, Student Code of Conduct, on our website, and University Catalog, and to comply with them, as well as with federal, state, and local laws.

4. A student has the responsibility to recognize the University's obligation to provide a safe environment for learning.

rights of another individual will not be tolerated.

Students are expected to exhibit a high level of honesty and integrity in their pursuit of higher education. Students engaging in an act that violates the standards of academic integrity will find themselves facing academic and/or disciplinary sanctions. Academic misconduct is any act, or attempt, which gives an unfair advantage to the student.
