In a nutshell, students serve an internship to perform agreed upon tasks for an employer. The employer acts as a mentor. The student performs a specific function, not just being the office gopher for example. These experiences are recounted in a weekly report to the Professor assigned to the class. These weekly reports become the basis for a semester end report by the student. In addition the employer files an end of semester report on the student. The reports should be e mailed to the Professor at the end of each week of the internship. E mail address is the same as above, delam@tamusa.edu.

Student will report their weekly activities on the Blackboard Site in the Blog Section assigned to them. A final report will recount the activities performed and skills learned. The employer submits an accompanying final report.
